creatures and deep sea fishes. Then we will say goodbye to beautiful Seward and start our way toward the quaint town of Alyeska for an Aerial Tram ride and a late lunch. The Alyeska Aerial Tram is a seven-minute scenic ride from The Hotel Alyeska to 2,300 ft in elevation and the top of Mt. Alyeska. From the Tram, you can see miles in all directions ? including views of the Turnagain Arm, up to seven ?hanging? glaciers and endless peaks deep into the Chugach Mountain range.

Moose and bear sightings are common, too. At the Upper Tram Terminal, there is an observation deck providing even more breath-taking panoramic views of majestic mountains, hanging glaciers, sparkling streams, towering spruce, and an array of wildlife. We will lunch at Alyeska.

Now we will make our way to the Crow Creek Gold Mine. Established in 1896, the Crow Creek Mine was one of the largest producing hydraulic placer gold mines in South Central Alaska and today is Alaska?s most popular ?recreational? gold panning area. No exact records are known that tell the true tale of exactly how much taken from this mine, but estimates put it around 700 ounces a month during peak production. When the commercial mining operations came to a standstill during World War II, many believed that more gold remained in the creek than had ever been mined out of it. The Toohey Family, owners and operators since 1969, strive to preserve not only the rich history and beautiful natural scenery of Crow Creek Mine, but also the gold resources within its claims so that many for years to come can experience the same thrill that the prospectors enjoyed when they first arrived at Crow Creek. Nestled among the Chugach Mountains, Crow Creek Mine offers a unique blend of historical buildings, antiques, rare mining equipment, beautiful gardens, amazing wilderness scenery, hiking trails (including the Historic Iditarod Trail), and access to the explore the mines? original claims. These claims are still producing gold to this very day and with a little work and a bit of luck, you might be quite surprised to find that you too can catch ?gold fever?.

But first, we will join the Mahey's riverboat tour where you'll travel 130 miles round trip through Denali State Park and into the National Wild River Park of "Devil's Gorge". This is one of our high adventure trips, designed for the hardy adventurer wishing to experience the thrill of the ultimate Alaskan river experience. Along the trip you will stop at the Mahey's Safari site, where you will see a Dena'ina Indian Encampment and visit an authentic trapper's cabin with its original furnishings and view how trappers lived in "Bush" Alaska at the turn of the century.

You'll see raw furs from the local area and demonstrated trapping methods. As you travel further into the remote Alaskan wilderness along the river you will have ever present opportunities to view nesting bald eagles, beaver activity, moose and salmon and you just might see black bear and grizzly bear roaming the shore. Talkeetna and do some souvenir hunting as well.

Then we'll make our way to the Denali National Park and we'll have a late dinner at the Alaska Cabin Night Dinner Theater. The cast/staff entertain you with songs and stories during dinner. The food is simple - ribs and salmon, potatoes, beans and corn, and blueberry cobbler for dessert. After dinner, the real show starts. The cast

Then we'll travel to Thunderbird Falls. On arrival we will leave our vehicle and start an easy approximately one mile hike to a boardwalk and viewing platform. The wooded trail follows alongside the ridge above the Eklutna River. It's about six feet wide and made of well maintained gravel. We'll then make a brief stop at the Eklutna. With a population of 383 this Dena'ina Athabascan village is the oldest inhabited location in the Anchorage area, having been inhabited for over 800 years.

The present population of the Eklutna area is still home to a significant community of Alaskan Native Americans, most of whom are members of the federally recognized Native Village of Eklutna. Russian Orthodox missionaries came here in the 1840's. The melding of Orthodox Christianity and native practices resulted in the brightly-colored spirit houses built over the graves of the deceased at the Eklutna Cemetery, which has been in use since 1650 and is now a historical park. Visitors here can visit St. Nicholas Church, the oldest standing building in the greater Anchorage area. Then we are off to the Alaska Native Heritage Center, a renowned cultural center and museum in Anchorage, an exciting place where we will learn more about Alaska's first people. Here we share the rich heritage of Alaska's eleven cultural groups drawing upon the life-ways of long ago and the traditions that endure. It is time to bring this tour to an end. As we bring you back to Anchorage to connect with your flights we hope that you have enjoyed your tour of Alaska and have a safe return home. Meals Provided: Breakfast, and
